

Firebrand®

Brand Workshops

Unlock your brand's potential in a one-day
brand workshop

differentiate positioning values vision purpose

Do you have a clear idea of where your business is headed?

Do you need to attract more customers or better employees?

Are you searching for that 'big idea' that will separate you from the competition?

Brand workshops are a personalised, time-efficient and cost-effective method to uncover new ways for your business to evolve, grow and compete.

How can it help?

Each brand workshop results in a variety of outputs which will help with your business planning and strategy.

Typically they help:

Re-energise workforces around a shared vision

Name and launch new products or services

Attract high-quality employees and motivate them

Revitalise organisations in mid-life doldrums

Find a unique message to attract loyal customers

Align thinking behind a simple but powerful brand idea

How the process works

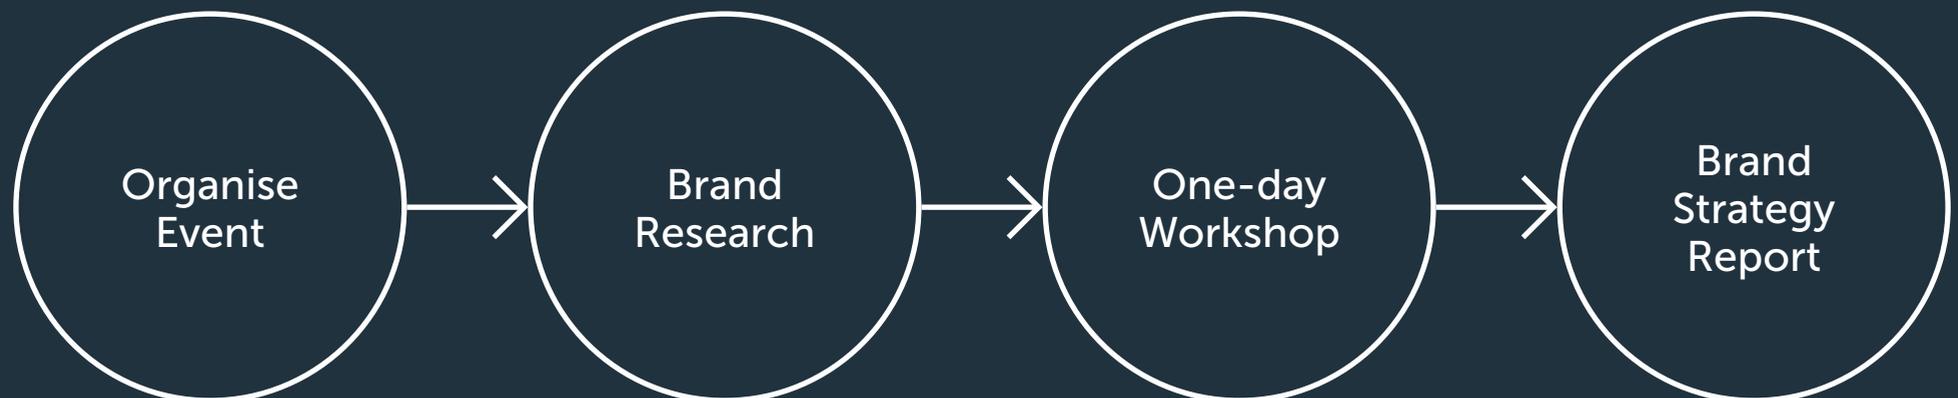

Prior to the workshop, we learn about you, your audience, market, goals and challenges. We also provide a short questionnaire that helps us prepare for the day.

The workshop agenda is shared with every participant, so everyone can start to think about what will be discussed.

Workshops last for around 5 hours with breaks for a working lunch and refreshments. We always allow additional time at the end to continue discussions, if required.

Following the workshop, the insights and conclusions are drafted into a preliminary document. This will go through one or two rounds of iteration with your stakeholders to deliver the final report. The result is a concise brand framework that will provide you with a foundation for refreshing your brand.

Your questions answered

What can I do with the results of my workshop?

Once you have your framework, you are free to work with Firebrand to put the strategy into action or use it with your existing marketing agency or internal department to guide your new approach.

What types of businesses can benefit?

We have held workshops with organisations across sectors ranging from healthcare to technology and business services to education.

Who should attend the workshops?

Our workshops cater for small groups of 1 or 2 people or larger groups of between 3 and 6 people. Participants usually include founders, management team and other key people who understand the business, company culture and marketplace.

Where are the workshops held?

In our experience it is more productive to work in a space away from your own office, so we organise your workshop at a creative environment convenient to your location.

When face-to-face gatherings are challenging, we can facilitate and run remote workshops. Using a combination of video conference software and a live digital workspace platform, we can collaborate just as effectively as you would in person.

How much does a workshop cost?

Session costs vary according to the number of participants and are all-inclusive. They include pre-workshop research, preparation costs, workshop materials, facilitation and post-workshop report. We also include the cost of the venue hire, a working lunch and refreshments.

A workshop to match your needs

We facilitate workshops covering specific requirements such as differentiation, brand naming and key messages. The workshops listed below are our most popular and are a great starting point for your brand strategy. We will discuss your current situation with you and advise the most appropriate option.

Brand Sprint Workshop

We will work with you to complete a brand commitment matrix and help you identify how your company and your customers are aligned. It will serve as a blueprint for building out a brand experience that ties back to the same focused, strategic idea.

Brand DNA Workshop

Does your brand revolve around a 'brand-idea'? We help you define a purpose and vision that will drive future decision-making. We then uncover your differentiation and help your brand own a unique and relevant place in the hearts and minds of your customers.

Brand Values Workshop

Your values are the enduring principles that should shape every aspect of your business; your moral compass and unique way of doing things. We identify the unique combination of values that unite your business and employees and create loyalty from your customers.

What businesses are saying

“

We now have a set of clearly-defined messages targeting each of our customer groups.”

“

The team at Firebrand have helped us clearly define what we stand for and have used this to set us apart from our competitors.”

“

The workshop format was the ideal opportunity to take the leadership team out of the office and focus on where our brand is going.”

“

Firebrand helped us uncover what really makes us different. This has become the central driver behind all our marketing.”

Firebrand®

We're a brand design agency who are strategically-focussed and creatively-driven. We've distilled the very best branding processes and techniques into a lean yet powerful methodology. Now your organisation can get real results, simply and rapidly.

We call it Big Brand Thinking.

Let's have a chat about how a brand workshop can help unlock your brand's potential

01323 430700

hello@firebrand.co.uk
www.firebrand.co.uk

Photos by Andy at Vanomos (andy@vamos.tv)

Firebrand®